"I, sir? I cannot bury people if they will not die. Please have pity — think of my poor family — do not be hard with me Mr. Marlow. I am sure my assets are lower than you think them to be, & if you would only give me a little time to realize on them —"

"Not another word!" cried Marlow. "You will pay the last cent day after to morrow or out of this house you go!"

He banged the door & went.

III

That next day
day never to lie fo
All day long the sat grouped to saying little, now
then looking into other's stony eyes & then clasping
other in a long em & many were the
sobs that were he
many the tears tha

I could not
this sight long at time. I flitted ac
from house to ho
where we had ho